Academic Search Alumni

The database offers information in nearly every area of academic study including biology, chemistry, engineering, physics, psychology, religion & theology, and more.

Note: If you are a current AU student, staff or faculty member, we recommend that you search Academic Search Complete, a more comprehensive database.

Academic Search Complete

Academic Search Complete is a multidisciplinary full text database which provides access to more than 5500 full text periodicals, the majority of which are peer-reviewed. It also includes abstracts for more than 9500 journals, and contains pdf content back as far as 1865. The database also includes monographs, reports, and conference proceedings.

AU Press

AU Press is the centre of scholarly publishing expertise for Athabasca University, Canada's Open University. It is the first scholarly press to be established by a Canadian university in the twenty-first century. We are dedicated to the dissemination of knowledge and research through open access digital journals and monographs, as well as through new electronic media.

Our geographical focus is on Canada, the North American West, and the Circumpolar North. One of our mandates is to publish innovative and experimental works (in both fiction and non-fiction) that challenge established canons,

Ed/ITLib

Use the Ed/ITLib Digital Library for Information Technology and Education to access "peer-reviewed and published international journal articles and proceedings papers on the latest research, developments, and applications related to all aspects of Educational Technology and E-Learning".

EDRS (ERIC Document Reproduction Service)

EDRS provides full text access to ERIC documents, and covers a variety of eduction related topics.

Note: The EDRS interface has been changed to a new search interface. Please see the ERIC web page to access full text Eric Documents (items in ERIC with an ED number). This database is available to everyone and there is no login requirement.

Education Full Text

This database provides access to a range of publications related to education, including adult education, distance education, library science, instructional media and teaching methods.

Note: This collection is available through OmniFile Full Text Mega

Education Research Complete

Education Research Complete provides access to literature published in the area of education, ranging from early childhood to higher education. In addition to indexing journals, it also contains full text for more than 70 books and monographs, and for a number of conference papers.

Electronic Journals Library

The Electronic Journals Library allows you to search for academic scholarly journals on the web. It indexes titles that provide full text freely available on the web and those that only provide citations and abstracts. To locate full text for items which are not available freely, please search the AU Journal Title List by the name of the journal.

Refworks

An introduction to RefWorks for Athabasca University students, staff and faculty

With RefWorks you can create your own personal database of citations and annotations for use in papers. It can help you keep track of citations accessed while doing research and can also be used to automatically format papers and bibliographies into standard publication styles. Keep in mind that no citation software can replace good proofreading of bibliographies!

Please note: As of July 15, 2015, AU Library's RefWorks accounts are stored on servers located in the United States.

To get started:

1. Log into RefWorks for Athabasca University here. We recommend that you bookmark this page. You may be asked to login using your MyAU credentials before the RefWorks page displays.
2. To start using RefWorks, sign up for a new account by clicking on "Sign Up for an New Account". You will use a log-in name and password that you create. The name has to be unique. The system will tell you if the name is acceptable. Entering a valid email account will assist you in the future if you forget your login name and password. Follow the steps provided on the screen. You may need to clear your browser's cache periodically to ensure that updates to RefWorks are processed.
3. If you used Write-N-Cite in the past, you will need to uninstall it using the standard process for uninstalling programs on your computer. Then you will need to install the latest version of Write-N-Cite for your computer--Windows or Mac. You can find instructions for doing this here Select "How do I install Write-N-Cite 4?".
4. If you receive a security certificate error message the first time you log in, follow these instructions to resolve the issue.
5. If you have questions about RefWorks, view the RefWorks Libguide, created by RefWorks. If you need further assistance, please contact the AU Library Information Desk.

Revise & Resubmit

Need to fire your advisor? Wondering how to negotiate the academic job market? Looking for collaborators or conference co-chairs? Curious about what inspires other academics in your field? Find answers, advice, and more at Revise & Resubmit, a new academic community, brought to you by the makers of Flow.

Learn about Flow, the latest creation from the RefWorks team.

Ready to take your research to the next level? Try Flow, our super-intuitive, cloud-based collaborative document and citation manager. Flow manages and displays your full text PDFs, autocompleting their metadata so you don't have to. You can read and annotate the text right in your browser, then cite your references with Flow for Word. Collaboration is a cinch, too: Flow lets you share your work and co-create shared collections with classmates, colleagues, or students, then annotate them together. Importing your research from RefWorks takes a single click. Learn more about Flow.

Abstract: Post-secondary distance education gives students and their families living in remote and rural regions the option to stay in their communities while they study instead of moving closer to the universities in cities. Post-secondary distance education is an option in many rural and remote First Nation (Indigenous) communities in Canada; however there are many challenges to successful adoption in these communities. There are also many opportunities for post-secondary institutions to expand their abilities and capacity in developing and delivering appropriate content supporting these unique, self-governing environments in Canada. We explore the experiences of students from a rural First Nation in Canada with post-secondary distance education, focusing on how different delivery methods offer both opportunities and challenges for community-based students. The study is situated in the context of contemporary colonialism in Canada. [ABSTRACT FROM AUTHOR]
